

fund-raiser a success

We would like to thank all the parents and students who donated desserts and worked during the recent Richmond Music Boosters Chili Supper Fund Raiser. Their contributions helped to make the supper a success.

We'd like to especially thank the following people for helping plan the supper: parents Vicki Clinton, Jeannette Eilar, Jeri Szlizewski, Cheri Sites, Gail Flory, Carol Walker, Brenda Carter, Jackie Smith, Jeannette Harris, Connie Wooldridge, Linda Murray and Dick Powell; Nancy Gray and Mary Maddox, RCS Food Service; Jon Chilcoate, Denise Benson and Dawn Anderson, Music Booster officers; Stuart Secctor, Music Department chair; and Sandy Cooper, secretary.

Also, thanks to directors Randy Ecker, Fred Kuester, Tony Ballin and Cheri Brightman for handling tickets and money with the students and to Thornburg's Quality Foods for donating dessert containers.

Finally, a big thanks to all who bought tickets and attended the supper. Your support will benefit the fine music programs of choir, band, orchestra and Devilettes at Richmond High School!

Cindy Anderson and Carol Hunyadi, music booster parents

■ Gina Maggard, massage therapist, and Terri Harlan, reflexologist, of Therapeutic Alternatives, recently treated the Richmond Community Schools' central kitchen employees to back massages and foot reflexology, compliments of Nancy Gray, food service coordinator.

YOUR ROSES

Fairview chili supper was a pleasant evening

Those who did not attend the Fairview chili supper Jan. 30 missed delicious chili that was catered by the Richmond Community Schools central kitchen, under the watchful eye of Nancy Gray, along with tasty desserts that had been donated by Accelerated Reader supporters.

Youthful piano selections were played in the background by Holly Love, Fairview's music teacher, while the dinner guests chatted and enjoyed each other's company. The students' art work adorned the tables, creating a beautiful scene.

Several students assisted their guests in the coat area, as well as providing host and table bussing service. Fairview's Brownie Troop, under the direction of Pam Hughes, did an exceptional job of cleaning during the evening. Officer Stewart, representing our D.A.R.E. program attended, strengthening our ties with the neighborhood community.

Title 1 coordinator Alesia Stewart and interim assistant director of special education Lou Dickman were there to show their support. Parents and Fairview Neighborhood Association members, along with the school's faculty staff joined together to serve the tomatoes and support reading.

PTO president Ron Newton and (Bizarro, neighborhood association president, did a wonderful job of promoting the event in their newsletters, along with help of Richmond area's radio stations (WQLK, WHON, WMFG and V) and Whitewater Community Television. The Palladium-Item newspaper. The service announcements were excellent and very much appreciated.

Support from members of the Presbyterian Church and Earlham students enhanced the success of the evening. A special presentation of the state flag by Rep. Bodiker and his wife to Principal Bret Laudig made the evening even more memorable. It was heart warming to see so many people gathered together to support such a cause — reading.

Vicki Elliott, Fairview

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Newspaper articles on Chili Supper fundraiser; Staff morale booster.